

Weather House Legal and Copyright Notice

Official product information for Weather House

Field	Details
Publisher	stratakernel.nl
Platforms	iPhone, iPad, and Mac
Effective date	6 October 2026
Contact	support@stratakernel.nl

1. Publisher and scope

Weather House for iPhone, iPad, and Mac (the App) is published by stratakernel.nl. This notice applies to the App and its accompanying documentation.

2. Licence

Unless a separate custom agreement is supplied, use of an App Store edition is governed by Apple's Standard End User License Agreement. This notice supplements that licence and does not limit mandatory consumer rights.

The App is licensed for personal use; it is not sold as a transfer of ownership in the software or its content.

3. Purpose and appropriate use

Weather House is a decorative weather display and entertainment app. It presents nearby weather observations in a playful visual form through a thermometer, moving characters, a flag, and atmospheric effects.

The App is not a safety, emergency, aviation, maritime, medical, agricultural, scientific, or professional forecasting system. Do not rely on it where delay, unavailable data, or an inaccurate observation could cause harm. Consult an official warning service when conditions matter for safety.

4. Weather and location information

Weather readings can vary from conditions at your exact position and can be delayed, incomplete, or unavailable. Accuracy also depends on the device location, network connection, third-party services, and operating-system permissions.

The App normally obtains weather data through Apple WeatherKit. If WeatherKit is unavailable or returns an error, the App automatically requests weather data from the Norwegian Meteorological Institute (MET Norway). Apple Weather information is subject to Apple's applicable terms. MET Norway data is licensed under the Norwegian Licence for Open Government Data (NLOD) 2.0 and Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 unless MET Norway states otherwise.

Place names and country codes are resolved through Apple's Core Location geocoding service. The current version does not use OpenStreetMap Nominatim for place-name lookup.

Sources: WeatherKit; MET Norway; Apple Privacy Policy

5. Photos and device functions

On iPhone and iPad, if the user permits access, the App can display chosen photos as a background. The user is responsible for having the right to use those images. The App may also use location services and ordinary display and animation functions. Availability depends on the device and operating system.

6. Copyright and intellectual property

Copyright (c) 2026 E.G. van Zeeland / StrataKernel Software. All rights reserved.

Unless stated otherwise, the software, user interface, original wooden-house artwork, character and mechanism design, animations, documentation, branding, and other original material are protected by copyright and other intellectual-property laws. They may not be copied, redistributed, reverse engineered, or used to create derivative products except as permitted by the applicable licence or mandatory law.

7. Third-party material and marks

Country flag artwork is derived from the flag-icons project by Panayiotis Lipiridis and contributors and is used under the MIT License. The licence text is included with the App.

Apple, WeatherKit, iPhone, iPad, Mac, macOS, and App Store names and marks belong to Apple Inc. MET Norway names and materials belong to their respective owners. Their inclusion does not imply endorsement.

Older Weather House versions may have used OpenStreetMap Nominatim for place-name lookup. OpenStreetMap and Nominatim acknowledgements should be retained in records and notices that apply to those older versions.

8. Availability and changes

The App may require a compatible device, a supported operating-system version, network access, location permission, WeatherKit availability, and continued availability of third-party services. Features may be corrected, changed, or discontinued as the App develops or platform requirements change.

9. Liability and consumer rights

Nothing in this notice excludes or restricts statutory rights or liability where the law does not allow that. To the extent permitted by law, the publisher is not liable for indirect or consequential loss arising from reliance on the App outside its stated decorative and general-information purpose.

10. Contact and updates

Questions about copyright or this notice may be sent to support@stratakern.nl. The current notice is published at stratakern.nl. It may be updated when the App, its services, its content, or legal requirements change.